

Dr Athanasios Gkekas graduated from the Medical School of the University of Ioannina in 1998. He acquired the specialty of Obstetrician - Gynaecologist at the Aretaio University Hospital of Athens(2004-2008).

From 2008 to 2013 he continued his training in Gynaecology in UK (Kings College Hospital, West Middlesex Hospital). He specialised in infertility problems and IVF at the world renowned Hammersmith Hospital in London.

In 2012-2013 he worked as a fertility specialist at the Create infertility centre in London (UK reference centre for women with low ovarian reserve and IVF in natural or modified natural cycle). Since 2021 he is the Clinical Director at Assisting Nature Fertility Unit at Iaso Thessalias.